COURSE OUTLINE

There are two strands to this practical programme:

1. Develop your own pronunciation at the level of sounds, words and connected speech. Learn to feel and sense what you are doing in your mouth so that you can critique and change your pronunciation as much as you wish, and help your learners to do the same.
2. Develop your performance skills through presentation and storytelling, to bring about listener engagement and enjoyment through your use of stress, intonation, voice tone, pause and fluency and body language.

At the same time, you will enjoy a complete workout with the Sound Foundations chart, as well as constant feedback to gain confidence and personalise a range of teaching techniques.

I am eager to go back to my school to apply what I have learned. I have got solutions for less motivated students too. I feel I am completely ready to start a new year at my school. I would rate IH London 10/10!
